Letter, Purporting To Have

With Appeal For Aid.

HAS TRUNK WITH MONEY

Writer Says He Wants Valuable
Baggage Secured From London Station.

An old flam-fam game, but a new one for this section, was recently tried on Lee Lutes, a former Charleroi merchant, who now resides in Fallowfield township. This is a letter from Spain written by a man who declares he is in jail, and having a trunk full of money in London, desires Mr. Lutes to secure the trunk for him, and offers for this service one-third of the money.

The letter was received in Charleroi but a few days ago, but was dated February 4. This is a similar scheme to one tried on a Washington man a few days ago. Fortunately neither Mr. Lutes or the county seat resident paid any attention to the letter, viewing it as an attempt to work a bunco scheme.

letter received by Mr. Lutes, good handwriting, on good paper follows:

I cannot receive your reply at my old servant by a cablegram to this address:

Being not sure you may receive this letter I await your reply to sign full name and for giving you full particulars about the matter.

Please reply by cable not by letter and by caution signed by this name.

The writer may have been either a foreigner or Englishman, but indications point to the latter, although, a foreign style of writing is employed, but in some of the letters there is not the same characteristics. It is thought that the letter was written by the same person who sent the one to Washington. In the most important parts of the letter words are underscored. The letter received by Mr. Lutes is reproduced above exactly as written.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLIES TO BE HELD THROUGHOUT COUNTY NEXT WEEK

Superintendents Are Assigned To Various Places In This District—Date of Gatherings.

The week beginning Monday, May 3, and ending Sunday May 9, has been set apart by the Washington County Sunday School Association for an aggressive campaign along Bible school lines. Meetings will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings in each of the fifteen districts. Wednesday evening the churches will offer prayer for the local, county, State and world wide work at the usual mid-week services.

These meetings are planned as an aid to the regular Sunday school work, and it is hoped much good will be accomplished.

Sunday, May 9, will be the climax of the week's campaign, when each school will receive a visit from a superintendent of some other school, according to the assignment made by the district president.

Those appointed for the Charleroi district, of which Joseph Keyon is president, are the following:

St. James A. M. E.—John F. Bowman.
Charleroi Baptist—Marshall Plausman.

DELEGATION AT COUNTY SEAT TO SECURE NOTICE

Donora and Monongahela Citizens Meet Commis- sioners Today

Today a committee of Donora citizens from Donora headed by R. E. Koehler and Charles F. Thomas, and one from Monongahela consisting of Joseph A. Herron, W. T. Gregg, Charles A. Bentley, W. K. Vance, Esq., S. M. Downey and Mayor L. C. Isler are in Washington today to confer with the county commissioners in regard to the naming of a road between the two cities for improvements. The committee left on the 8:20 car from Monongahela. The delegation hopes to attain some success.

Arrangements were made this week by the Monongahela and Donora people to attend the meeting. The road, it is stated, part of the year is practically an impassable condition, and it is hoped to secure either brick or macadam improvements. The Monongahela people, and those from Donora, as well, it is understood, would prefer the brick, claiming that it would be the cheaper in the long run, as it would last 100 years or more with little care, while that of the macadam would be a constant expense.

It is hardly likely that the county will go to the necessary expense, however, of constructing the brick road, preferring to build the other, which would for the time be just as good and can be kept up for little expense.

After the meeting with the county commissioners at Washington, and the probable result of the conference is made known, it is more than likely that citizens of Charleroi, North Charleroi and Carroll township will take up the matter with Monongahela people, of securing State aid in the improvement of the highway between the end of Lincoln avenue in North Charleroi and Monongahela. Then the Monongahela and Finleyville citizens will go farther in having the Monongahela-Finleyville road improved. In this matter it is thought possible to have the good road movement in this section carried out as in others.

Horn-Fisher.
A prettily appointed wedding yesterday was the marriage of Miss Nora Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fisher of Carroll township, to Bowman Horn of Bentleville. The ceremony was performed at the Fisher homestead, where an elaborate wedding dinner was served. Rev. H. C. Boblitt, pastor of the First Christian Church of Charleroi was the officiating minister. Miss Fisher is well-known throughout the county, and her husband is a rising young bookkeeper in the employ of the American Steel and Wire company at Donora. He has prepared a cozy home for his bride at Lockview and they will take up their abode there at once.

RESIGNATIONS ACCEPTED

Two Members of the Board of Health Pass Out of Official Connection with the Body

The Charleroi Board of Health at a meeting accepted the resignation of President of the board, Rev. H. C. Boblitt, and that of R. S. Phillips, a member of the board. J. F. Bowman was elected president. For the new members D. R. Hormell and William Gault were named.

SESSION WILL BE HELD FRIDAY

No Direct Results as to Yes- terday's Railway Men's Conference

The conference of the officials of the Pittsburg Railways Company and the grievance committee representing the employees of the company, after sessions covering parts of two days, closed yesterday and both sides to the controversy are silent as to any results reached. The committee representing the men will report to the rank and file at meetings to be held on Friday night, if a hall can be secured.

Following the conclusion of the conference the executive committee of the local organization met last night with the committee who had represented the men at the conference and after a short session it was decided to issue the call for the mass meetings to be held on Friday night, one at 8 and the other after midnight. The meetings will be held Saturday if a suitable hall is not available on Friday. At these meetings final expression from the majority of the men will be secured. That will rule.

President Mahon would not state whether or not a further conference of representatives of the company and employees would follow the scheduled meetings.

The social given last evening by St. Jerome's C. T. A. U. in their meeting rooms in P. H. C. hall was a grand social success. All who attended enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. Marathon Committee Puts Final Touches To Their Work.

CROWD WILL BE FEATURE

Thought Pa'l Ground Will Be Filled By Interested Persons.

The Marathon spirit is manifest today in Charleroi.

The town has put on its best bib and tucker, and will this afternoon be at the baseball park to witness the big race that is scheduled to take place beginning at 4 o'clock. The clean-limbed athletes who have entered the race, are with a possible exception in condition for the event, and each will try hard to prove himself the most able.

The committee this morning finished up all the final work, so that there is nothing now to be done in the way of making arrangements. The ball park has been "decorated," not in the usual sense however, but with red flags which mark the course. The spectators will be kept away from the course, being held back by ropes, and no one except the officials will be permitted near the track.

A good sized crowd is in town for the race, the various towns along the Monongahela valley sending their delegations with the runners who have entered, from the respective places.

Truly the Marathon spirit is manifest today in Charleroi.

GUN CLUBS TO HOLD TOURNAMENTS

One To Be In Charleroi
Sometime In May, Date
Announced Later.

The Western Pennsylvania Trap Shooters' League will hold six tournaments during 1909. The following places have been named by Elmer E. Shiner, who was appointed to select the proper places: Pittsburg Gun Club, Pittsburg, April 27; Charleroi Gun Club, Charleroi, Pa., in May; McKeesport Gun Club, McKeesport, Pa., in June; Aspinwall Gun Club, Aspinwall, Pa., in July, Brownsville Gun Club, Brownsville, Pa., in August; Sewickley Gun Club, Sewickley, Pa., in September. The dates of the respective tournaments will be named later.

Churches United.

The Ellsworth and Bellsville Presbyterian churches have been united under the pastorate of the Rev. J. C. Hughes. Beginning May 9, the Sunday school and preaching services in the Bellsville church will be at 10 and 11 o'clock respectively. The preaching service in the Ellsworth church will be as heretofore at 7:30 every Sunday evening.

Miss Gertrude Breslue Hunt, who was advertised to speak on the street corner in the interests of Socialism, has transferred the engagement to Turner Hall for Wednesday evening, May 5. The meeting is free and all are invited.

Good For Everybody.

Barring weather conditions everything at this writing points to a successful termination of the great Marathon races which the Charleroi committee has arranged to take place at 4 o'clock today. From the time the project was broached until the present, when every minor detail has been completed, a degree of enthusiasm has prevailed that was contagious. It reflects the true Charleroi spirit that has been the real success of the growth and development of the Magic City.

While the Marathon race is not of vital importance in itself, it is a holiday event, which will add to the pleasure of the people somewhat, and break the monotony of this work-a-day life, which presses heavily at times. A little relaxation occasionally is beneficial all around, and a general holiday for the community binds people together in a community of interests that can be applied to material matters as well as devoted to pleasure.

Have a Clean-Up Day.

With the advent of spring some of the neighboring towns have inaugurated a cleaning-up day when, by a concerted movement, borough officials and property owners set a specified day or days, and clean up their properties and the streets and public places. The result is not only beneficial from a sanitary point of view, but it adds to the appearance of the town and makes it attractive in the eyes of strangers. A "clean town" goes a long way in attracting people and capital within its gates.

Charleroi is not a "dirty town," thanks to the activity of the local health board and sanitary officer, but it has some unsightly spots the removal of which will greatly help the town. While these do not all come within the pale of the law, they are nevertheless a nuisance, and could be removed. A good many back yards and vacant lots need attention, and too much free advertising is being done to the great American industry of canning, or the effects of it, rather. Charleroi once had a civic association, and this body had a "tin can day," which was eminently successful. It would be a good plan to repeat the event. Now is the accepted time.

A Sensible Change.

One of the most sensible acts of the last Legislature was a change in the legal phraseology of a deed of conveyance. In this the transaction is reduced to plain English, and is made shorter, plainer and can be readily understood. Under the new form any person of ordinary intelligence should be able to write a deed as well as to understand its meaning.

When John Doe wants to make a legal transaction of the sale of a bushel of potatoes to Richard Roe, he writes on a bill head, "Sold to Richard Roe, one bushel of potatoes, $1.00," or the current market price, and to close up the deal adds, "Received payment, John Doe." If that bushel of potatoes were a piece of land John Doe would have to have a conveyancer "grant, bargain and sell alien, enfeoff, release and confirm to his heirs and assigns forever, to have and to hold," and a lot of other phrasology, the meaning of which is not clearly understood by the average person, but who knows well enough that the transaction is only one of buying and selling.

A lot of other changes in legal terms should follow. When Billy Patterson was struck, every one knew he got "a terrible whack," but to state that fact in an indictment for assault and battery would make Billy himself uncertain as to what he got in the deal. The new form of deed is a step in the right direction, and the whole code should be edited and blue penciled.

Electric Sparks.

Evangelist Davis down at Monongahela don't believe in card playing and dancing, and isn't afraid to say so. That's the way with a lot of others, but they differ from him in regard to courage.

Marathon, Marathen Marathor, Marathon in fact there is nothing else to be talked about today.

From the crowd that is in town, the people that have to count the money will have the hardest job. Maybe, but there are enough that would envy them their task.

An alleged murderer was caught down at Monongahela. Wonder if there is a reward out for his apprehension?

LINCOLN'S HOUSE.

An Occasion When He Did Not Recognize It at First Sight.

"Mrs. Lincoln played a good joke on her husband when he was practicing law and journeyed about from court to court on horseback," says Major Pittenger. "These trips often took several weeks at a time."

"On one of these trips Lincoln was gone for about four weeks. He returned late one night. Stepping into his house, he dismounted at the usual place. He turned to go into the house and then stopped. Although he was a man of temperance, he thought he must have been imbibing on the sly some time that day, for before him stood a building he had never seen before. He thought it over for a minute and then went across the street and knocked at a friend's door. They were in bed, and some one sang out:

"Who is it?"

"Abe Lincoln," was the reply. "I've been looking for my house. Can you tell me where it is? Guess I must have been lost. I thought it was just across the way. When I went away the building was one story high, and now it is two."

He used to tell the joke on himself many times, according to the major—National Magazine.

CONTINUOUS SHOWS.

They Were Started by S. F. Keith in a Boston Store.

It was in the month of January, 1883, that Mr. S. F. Keith, who had been studying the show business with persevering eyes for many years, presented, in a store that he had leased in Boston, the first continuous show ever seen on any stage. He paid his performers $20 a week for a single turn and $40 for double and required them to give eight or nine turns a day. His "top hat" or chief attraction was a pound and a half baby. The doors of his playhouse were left open at noon, and from that time until half past 10 at night the performance went on without interruption.

Patrons were allowed to spend the entire day in the theater, and at first so many availed themselves of this opportunity to get a substantial filling of amusement at a small cost that Mr. Keith realized that he must either abandon the idea of a continuous entertainment or else invent some method by which the audience could be driven out of the building and placed made for those outside who were waiting for admittance. Necessity is the mother of invention, especially when it is mated with sharp Yankee wit, and it was thus that what is known as "the chaser" came into the world.—James L. Ford in McClure's Magazine.

Ready Replies.

One of Lord Carnarvon's future constituents once asked the youthful candidate his opinion upon some abstruse question of which he knew nothing. "Let him alone," cried another derisively. "Don't you see he's nothing but a baby?" "What do you think?" reiterated his inquirer, heedless of the interruption and determined to have an answer. "I think," said Lord Carnarvon, with ready wit, "that it is high time for all babies to be in bed," and so saying he gathered up his papers and disappeared from the platform.

Again—and this last anecdote is so well known as to have become well nigh historical—at a crowded meeting just before his election, he was interrupted by the question, "Does your mother know you're out?" "Yes, she does," was the instant retort, "and by Tuesday night she will know I'm in." His prophecy proved correct, and he headed the poll by a large majority.

Hopelessly Out of Style.

"When we take charge of the government," says the wise old suffragette, "we will make some changes in the naval bureau."

"I should hope so," agrees the enthusiastic young suffragette. "Why, bureaus are hopelessly out of style! We will have a combination wardrobe and chiffonier!"—Judge.

The Real Scrap.

Two muscular individuals were hammering at each other in the ring.

"Horrible!" ejaculated a tender-hearted spectator.

"Horrible nothing," said a regular patron. "If you want to see a real scrap get next to them when they divide the purse."—Philadelphia Ledger.

In a Safe Place.

"We have a man in this prison who never tried to escape," declared the head keeper.

"What's he in for?" inquired the visitor.

"Bigamy," replied the head keeper.—Bohemian.

THE NUMBER SEVEN

It Rarely Occurs in the Science of Weights and Measures.

How would you define "seven"? The Standard Dictionary says it is "one more than six." Webster's calls it "one more than six or one less than eight." The abridged Webster says it is "five and two," and the Century's definition runs "one more than six; the sum of three and four."

In metrology—that is, the science of weights and measures—seven is comparatively rare. The seven days of the week form a striking example of its use, however.

Scholars have found, too, that the Egyptian cubit contained seven hand breadths. "Cubit" is from the Latin "cubitum," the elbow, or the distance from the elbow to the end of the middle finger. The Roman cubit was one and a half Roman feet or 17.1 English inches, but the royal Egyptian cubit, used in the building of the pyramids at Gizeh, perhaps 3360 B. C., has been learned from measuring sticks found in the tombs to have been 20.61 English inches. The ordinary cubit was divided into six palms or handbreadths, and the use of seven in the Egyptian cubit is ascribed by some investigators to a probable custom of placing the hand behind the elbow when measuring along walls with the forearm and leaving it on the wall until the arm was laid down again. It should be added that there are many other cubits of widely different values, both ancient and modern.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Hoax—I can always tell a woman who takes things because they look cheap. Joax—How? Hoax—Simply by looking at her husband.—Philadelphia Record.

LANGUAGE OF MUSIC.

The Manner in Which It Appeals to the Human Heart.

To those musical agnostics who deny to music any beauties save those of design and maintains that of itself it cannot express ideas and feelings Redfern Mason makes appropriate reply.

But there is another side to the picture. What was it that made George II. rise in his place when they sang the "Hallelujah" chorus, thereby setting an example which is followed to this day? What was it in the finale of the fifth symphony that drew the Napoleonic veteran to his feet with the exclamation, "The emperor?" What sanctity in the Ambrosian hymns moved St. Augustine to tears?

During the wars of the French revolution it was forbidden, on pain of death, to play the "Ranz des Vaches" in the hearing of the Swiss soldiers, for so acute longing for home did it bring upon them that they deserted in hundreds. Are we to think that there was no virtue in the music itself and that the effect produced was the outcome of purely accidental circumstances?

The Austrian government forbade Berlin to play the "Backoczy" march at Budapest, fearful of its effect on the inflammable Hungarians. Was the fire of patriotism kindled by the mere knowledge that the melody symbolized Hungary, or did the notes speak with tongues of flame?—Atlantic Monthly.

Recipes For Goodness.

Half of the wickedness of life is owing to misery. Make a man happy and he is good. He revives like a flower refreshed by the dew of heaven; this good brother, recognizing his fellow worker in the Lord way back among the congregation on Sunday morning and wishing to show every courtesy, asked him to lead in prayer. But the visitor calmly replied: "You'll have to excuse me, dear brother. I'm on my vacation."

Having hearts are like poor folks—they are contented with whatever is given to them.—Swetstone.

A LION HUNT.

Usually a Case in Which Hunters Goad the Game into Combat.

There is a distinction in Africa between ordinary lions and "man-eaters," says T. R. MacMechan in McClure's Magazine. The ordinary lion does not willfully attack man. The presence of lions roaming at night on the veldt is not disturbing to any native nor to whites who have come to understand the beast. Persons returning to their camps after nightfall do not notice the roaring of lions or the cries of leopards or hyenas.

It is seldom that people best open domestic errands carry weapons in the darkness, although at night the veldt of British East Africa is alive with roaming beasts, which may be heard from the verandas of the houses. Lions give the passing man a wide berth, day or night, when it is apparent that he means no mischief. An ordinary lion, even when wounded, will try flight before fight. When its escape is disputed it will, especially if wounded, try to maul its enemy with teeth and claws.

A lion hunt is usually a chase in which the hunters goad the game into combat. Once a lion has tasted human blood, however, it is no more afraid of man, but learns that he is the weakest of animals and the choicest of meat. Such a lion is known as a man-eater because now he hunts man.

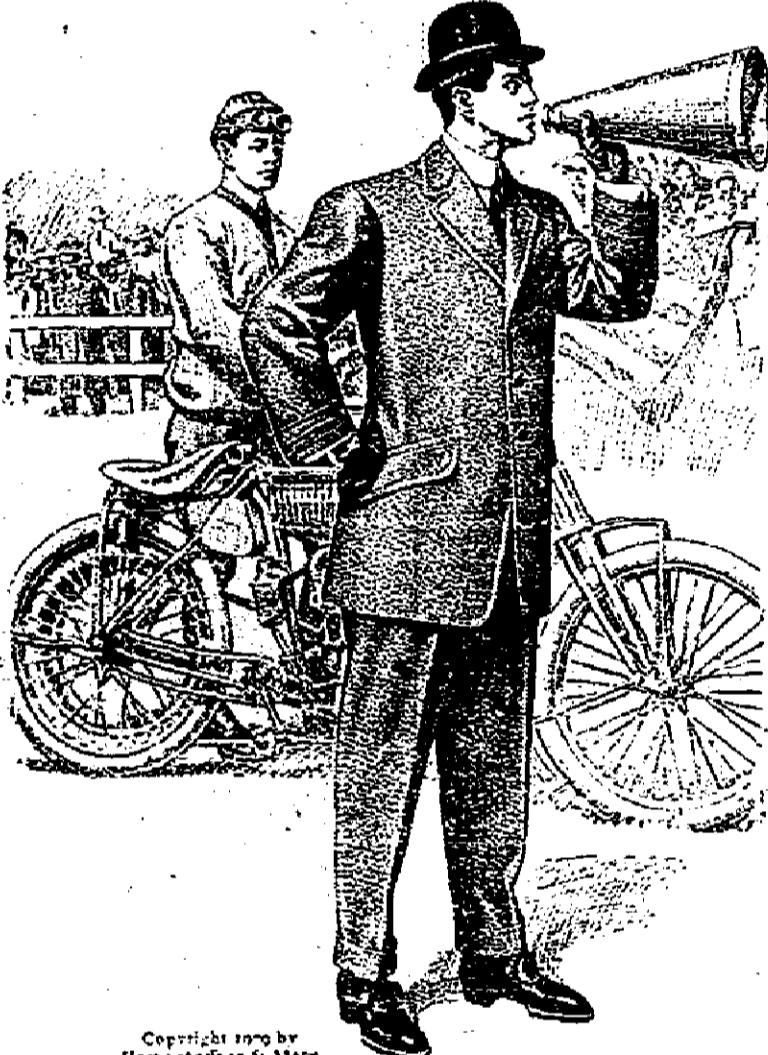

Perfectly Reckless.

The members of the church voted that their dearly beloved and devoted pastor should have a vacation, and so he decided that he would visit a brother worker in the neighboring village. This good brother, recognizing his fellow worker in the Lord way back among the congregation on Sunday morning and wishing to show every courtesy, asked him to lead in prayer.

THE GREAT MATHUSHEK

This is a piano WITHOUT A PEER. There is a no more reliable or more honestly constructed piano made in the world. Its separate agraffe, its independent iron frame, its mandolin sounding board, all commend it as a piano of the VERY HIGHEST CLASS, but it is to its great durability and ability to stay in tune, that its fame is best known.

During this sale, or throughout the entire month of May, this great piano can be bought practically ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS LESS THAN ITS REGULAR PRICE AND ACTUAL WORTH.

Each and Every Piano Sold During This Sale Has My Personal Guarantee

And I refer to the hundreds of persons in this valley to whom I have sold pianos during the past 14 years, as to my treatment of them in their business relations with me.

JUVENILE COURT TO HANDLE CASE

Boy Ran Away from Home and is Captured in Pittsburgh

Fred Lewis, 15, years old, ran away from his home Saturday after some disagreement there. He was detained in Pittsburgh, where he stated he was on his way to Chicago. The juvenile court probation officer there communicated with Mrs. Emma Speers, the probation officer at Washington, and she came to Charleroi today to investigate the case. A hearing will be given the boy in Pittsburgh Saturday. While here Mrs. Speers so investigated the case of Annie Kamenicky who is in the detention rooms at Washington, charged with incorrigibility. It is the intention to commit the girl to the Home of the Good Shepherd at Wheeling.

New Jokes and Songs.

Next Friday and Saturday night, May 7 and 8, at Turner Hall, Charleroi people will have the pleasure of attending two of the most elaborate minstrel productions ever attempted by home talent. The production is given under the auspices of the Lady Macabees, which is of itself sufficient guarantee that it will be superb.

From the rise of the curtain until its fall, everything will move with the finish and dash of a professional performance.

The jokes will be well sprung and will be witty, the gags of the latest, yet entirely devoid of coarseness showing nothing but bright, keen shafts of wit and the songs and choruses will be all catchy and entertaining. The whole first part will be followed by an olio of mirth, music and oddities.

The minstrels are given under the directions of Prof. and Mrs. McCloskey, who are well-known in surrounding towns where they have successfully staged such plays as "America," "Lousiana" and musical comedies. The prices are within reach of all, 35 and 50 cents.

A GREAT DISCOVERY

Certain Ingredients That Really Grow Hair When Properly Combined.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its natural nourishment, and also creates a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin, although not a coloring matter or dye, is a well-known ingredient for restoring the hair to its natural color, when the loss of hair has been caused by a disease of the scalp.

These ingredients in proper combination, with alcohol added as a stimulant and for its well defined nourishing properties, perfect the most effective remedy that is known for scalp and hair troubles.

We have a remedy which is chiefly composed of these ingredients, in combination with other extremely invaluable medicinal agents. We guarantee it to positively cure dandruff and to grow hair; even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair. If there is any vitality left in the roots, it will positively cure baldness. If the scalp has a glazed, shiny appearance, it's an indication that baldness is permanent, but in every other instance, baldness is curable.

We want everyone troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Rexall "98" Hair Tonic. If it does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has effected a positive cure in 98 per cent of cases where put to a practical test.

Rexall "98" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike, and in every particular better, than anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better guarantee to give you. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. John W. Carroll, Charleroi, Pa.

HAS TRUNK WITH MONEY

Writer Says He Wants Valuable
Baggage Secured From London Station.

An old flim-flam game, but a new one for this section, was recently tried on Lee Lutes, a former Charleroi merchant, who now resides in Fallowfield township. This is a letter from Spain written by a man who declares he is in jail, and having a trunk full of money in London, desires Mr. Lutes to secure the trunk for him, and offers for this service one-third of the money.

The letter was received in Charleroi but a few days ago, but was dated February 4. This is a similar scheme to one tried on a Washington man a few days ago. Fortunately neither Mr. Lutes or the county seat resident paid any attention to the letter, viewing it as an attempt to work a bunko. The letter received by Mr. Lutes had handwriting, on good paper, as follows:

Madrid, Feb. 4, 1909.

The writer may have been either a indications point to the latter, although a foreign style of writing is employed, but in some of the letters there is not the same characteristics. It is thought that the letter was written by the same person who sent the one to Washington. In the most important parts of the letter words are underscored. The letter received by Mr. Lutes is reproduced above exactly as written.

WANT DIFFERENT MAN APPOINTED

American Federation of Labor to Ask Governor For Change

An attempt is being made by the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor to oust John C. Delaney, chief Factory Inspector of the state. Just who the Federation will set up as a candidate has not been made known, but it is sur that the organization will recommend the appointment of some person in harmony with its work.

The following resolution has been passed by the Federation and a copy of it forwarded to Governor Stuart, so that he will have time to consider its recommendations before the term of the present inspector expires on May 2:

Whereas, The term of office of John C. Delaney, Chief Factory Inspector, will expire in the month of May, 1909; and

Whereas, The evil of child labor is steadily increasing among us, and many who might otherwise become good and useful citizens are falling victims to this terrible curse, and

Whereas, One great cause of the increase of child labor is the laxity of frequent inspections, and

Whereas, The Deputy Factory Inspectors are idle two-thirds of their time, they being forbidden to make more than two inspections in any one year;

Resolved, That inasmuch as the department of Factory Inspection is a department of labor and one created through the agitation of the working people of this State, we earnestly request the Governor to appoint at the head of the factory Department a man who is conversant with, and has obtained a good knowledge of labor and its conditions, and let it further Resolved, That the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor directs its President to present these resolutions to the Governor of the State."

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLIES TO BE HELD THROUGHOUT COUNTY NEXT WEEK

Superintendents Are Assigned To Various Places In This District--Date of Gatherings.

The week beginning Monday, May 3, and ending Sunday May 9, has been set apart by the Washington County Sunday School Association for an aggressive campaign along Bible school lines. Meetings will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings in each of the fifteen districts. Wednesdays evening the churches will offer prayer for the local, county, State and world wide work at the usual mid-week services.

These meetings are planned as an aid to the regular Sunday school work, and it is hoped much good will be accomplished.

Sunday, May 9, will be the climax of the week's campaign, when each school will receive a visit from a superintendent of some other school, according to the assignment made by the district president.

Those appointed for the Charleroi district, of which Joseph Keynon is president, are the following:

St. James A. M. E.—John F. Bowman.

Charleroi Baptist—Marshall Pausman.

DELEGATION AT COUNTY SEAT TO SECURE NOTICE

Donora and Monongahela Citizens Meet Commis- sioners Today

Today a committee of Donora citizens from Donora headed by R. E. Kuehler and Charles F. Thomas, and one from Monongahela consisting of Joseph A. Herron, W. T. Gregg, Charles A. Bentley, W. K. Vance, Esq., S. M. Downey and Mayor L. C. Isler are in Washington today to confer with the county commissioners in regard to the naming of a road between the two cities for improvements. The committee left on the 2-20 car from Monongahela. The delegation hopes to attain some success.

Arrangements were made this week by the Monongahela and Donora people to attend the meeting. The road, it is stated, part of the year is practically an impassable condition, and it is hoped to secure either brick or macadam improvements. The Monongahela people, and those from Donora, as well, it is understood, would prefer the brick, claiming that it would be the cheaper in the long run, as it would last 100 years or more with little care, while that of the macadam would be a constant expense—it is hardly likely that the county will go to the necessary expense, however, of constructing the brick road, preferring to build the other, which would for the time be just as good and can be kept up for little expense.

After the meeting with the county commissioners at Washington, and the probable result of the conference is made known, it is more than likely that citizens of Charleroi, North Charleroi and Carroll township will take up the matter with Monongahela people, of securing State aid in the improvement of the highway between the end of Lincoln avenue in North Charleroi and Monongahela. Then the Monongahela and Finleyville citizens will go farther in having the Monongahela-Finleyville road improved. In this matter it is thought possible to have the good road movement in this section carried out as in others.

No Direct Results as to Yes- terday's Railway Men's Conference

The conference of the officials of the Pittsburg Railways Company and the grievance committee representing the employees of the company, after sessions covering parts of two days closed yesterday and both sides to the controversy are silent as to any results reached. The committee representing the men will report to the rank and file at meetings to be held on Friday night, if a hall can be secured.

Following the conclusion of the conference the executive committee of the local organization met last night with the committee who had represented the men at the conference and after a short session it was decided to issue the call for the mass meetings to be held on Friday night, one at 8 and the other after midnight. The meetings will be held Saturday if a suitable hall is not available on Friday. At these meetings final expression from the majority of the men will be secured. That will rule.

President Mahon would not state whether or not a further conference of representatives of the company and employees would follow the scheduled meetings.

Good For Everybody.

Barring weather conditions everything at this writing points to a successful termination of the great Marathon races which the Charleroi committee has arranged to take place at 4 o'clock today. From the time the project was broached until the present, when every minor detail has been completed, a degree of enthusiasm has prevailed that was contagious. It reflects the true Charleroi spirit that has been the real success of the growth and development of the Magic City.

While the Marathon race is not of vital importance in itself, it is a holiday event, which will add to the pleasure of the people somewhat and break the monotony of this workday life, which presses heavily at times. A little relaxation occasionally is beneficial all around, and a general holiday for the community binds people together in a community of interests that can be applied to material matters as well as devoted to pleasure.

Have a Clean-Up Day.

With the advent of spring some of the neighboring towns have inaugurated a cleaning-up day when, by a concerted movement, borough officials and property owners set a specified day or days, and clean up their properties and the streets and public places. The result is not only bene-cial from a sanitary point of view, but it adds to the appearance of the town and makes it attractive in the eyes of strangers. A "clean town" goes a long way in attracting people and capital within its gates.

Charleroi is not a "dirty town," thanks to the activity of the local health board and sanitary officer, but it has some unsightly spots the removal of which will greatly help the town. While these do not all come within the pale of the law, they are nevertheless a nuisance, and could be removed. A good many back yards and vacant lots need attention, and too much free advertising is being done to the great American industry of canning, or the effects of it, rather.

Charleroi once had a civic association,

and this body had a "tin can day," would be a good plan to repeat the event. Now is the accepted time.

A Sensible Change.

One of the most sensible acts of the last legislature was a change in the legal phraseology of a deed of conveyance. In this the transaction is reduced to plain English, and is made shorter, plainer and can be readily understood. Under the new form any person of ordinary intelligence should be able to write a deed as well as to understand its meaning.

When John Doe wants to make a legal transaction of the sale of a bushel of potatoes to Richard Roe, he writes on a bill head, "Sold to Richard Roe, one bushel of potatoes, $1.00," or the current market price, and to close up the deal adds, "Received payment, John Doe." If that bushel of potatoes were a piece of land John Doe would have to have a conveyancer "grant, bargain and sell alien, enfeoff, release and confirm, to his heirs and assigns forever, to have and to hold," and a lot of other phraseology, the meaning of which is not clearly understood by the average person, but who knows well enough that the transaction is only one of buying and selling.

A lot of other changes in legal terms should follow. When Billy Patterson was struck, every one knew he got "a terrible whack," but to state that fact in an indictment for assault and battery would make Billy himself uncertain as to what he got in the deal. The new form of deed is a step in the right direction, and the whole code should be edited and blue penciled.

LINCOLN'S HOUSE.

An Occasion When He Did Not Recognize It at First Sight.

"Mrs. Lincoln played a good joke on her husband when he was practicing law and journeyed about from court to court on horseback," says Major Pittenger. "Those trips often took several weeks at a time.

"On one of those trips Lincoln was gone for about four weeks. He returned into one night. Stepping his horse, he dismounted at the usual place. He turned to go into the house and then stopped. Although he was a man of temperance, he thought he must have been inhibiting on the slip some time that day, for before him stood a building he had never seen before. He thought it over for a minute and then went across the street and knocked at a friend's door. They were in bed, and some one sang out:

"Who is it?"

"Abe Lincoln," was the reply. "I've been looking for my house. Can you tell me where it is? Guess I must have been lost. I thought it was just across the way. When I went away the building was one story high, and now it is two."

He used to tell the joke on himself many times, according to the major.—National Magazine.

CONTINUOUS SHOWS.

They Were Started by E. F. Keith in a Boston Store.

It was in the month of January, 1883, that Mr. E. F. Keith, who had been studying the show business with far-seeing eyes for many years, presented, in a store that he had leased in Boston, the first continuous show ever seen on any stage. He paid his performers $20 a week for a single turn and $40 for double and required them to give eight or nine turns a day. His "top liver" or chief attraction was a pound and a half baby. The doors of his playhouse were thrown open at noon, and from that time until just past 10 at night the performance went on without interruption.

Patrons were allowed to spend the entire day in the theater, and at first

so many availed themselves of this opportunity to get a substantial filling of amusement at a small cost that Mr.

Keith realized that he must either abandon the idea of a continuous entertainment or else invent some method by which the audience could be driven out of the building and placed in a room where they could wait for admittance. Necessity is the mother of invention, especially when it is meted with sharp Yankee wit, and it was thus that what is known as the "cigar" came into the world.

James L. Ford in McClure's Magazine.

Ready Replies.

One of Lord Carmarthen's future constituents once asked the youthful candidate his opinion upon some abstruse question of which he knew nothing. "Let him alone!" cried another derisively. "Don't you see he's nothing but a baby?" "What do you think?" reiterated his inquirer, heedless of the interruption and determined to have an answer. "I think," said Lord Carmarthen, with ready wit, "that it is high time for all babies to be in bed," and so saying he gathered up his papers and disappeared from the platform.

Again—and this last anecdote is so well known as to have become well nigh historical—at a crowded meeting just before his election, he was interrupted by the question, "Does your mother know you're out?" "Yes, she does," was the instant retort, "and by Tuesday night she will know I'm in." His prophecy proved correct, and he headed the poll by a large majority.

Hopelessly Out of Style.

"When we take charge of the government," says the wise old suffragette, "we will make some changes in the naval bureau."

"I should hope so," agrees the engaged man. "The naval bureaus are hopelessly out of style. We will have a combination wardrobe and chiffonier."—Judge.

The Real Scrap.

Two muscular individuals were hammering at each other in the ring.

"Horrible!" ejaculated a tender hearted spectator.

"Horrible nothing," said a regular patron. "If you want to see a real scrap, get next to them when they divide the purse."—Philadelphia Ledger.

In a Safe Place.

"We have a man in this prison who never tried to escape," declared the head keeper.

"What's he in for?" inquired the visitor.

"Bigamy," replied the head keeper.

THE NUMBER SEVEN.

It Rarely Occurs In the Science of Weights and Measures.

How would you define "seven"? The Standard Dictionary says it is "one more than six or one less than eight." The abridged Webster says it is "five and two," and the Century's definition runs "one more than six; the sum of three and four."

In metrology—that is, the science of weights and measures—seven is comparatively rare. The seven days of the week form a striking example of its use, however.

Scholars have found, too, that the Egyptian cubit contained seven hand-widths. "Cubit" is from the Latin "cubitum," the elbow, or the distance from the elbow to the end of the middle finger. The Roman cubit was one and a half Roman feet or 17.4 English inches, but the royal Egyptian cubit, used in the building of the pyramids of Gizeh, perhaps 3500 B.C., has been carried from measuring sticks found in the family to have been 20.65 English inches. The ordinary cubit was divided into six palms or handbreadths, and the use of seven in the Egyptian cubit is ascribed by some investigators to a probable custom of placing the hand along walls with the forearm and leaving it on the wall until the arm was laid down again. It should be added that there are many other cubits of widely different values, both ancient and modern.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

LANGUAGE OF MUSIC.

The Manner in Which it Appeals to the Human Heart.

To those musical agnostics who deny to music any beauties save those of design and imitation that of itself it cannot express ideas and feelings Redfern Mason makes appropriate reply.

But there is another side to the picture. What was it that made George II. rise in his place when they sang the "Hallelujah" chorus, thereby setting an example which is followed to this day? What was it in the finale of the fifth symphony that drew the Napoleonic veteran to his feet with the exclamation, "The emperor?" What sanctified in the Ambrosian hymns moved St. Augustine to tears?

During the wars of the French revolution it was forbidden, on pain of death, to play the "Ranz des Vaches" in the hearing of the Swiss soldiers, for so acute a longing for home did it bring upon them that they deserted in hundreds. Are we to think that there was no virtue in the music itself and that the effect produced was the outcome of purely accidental circumstances?

The Austrian government forbade Beethoven to play the "Rocky" march at Budapest, fearful of its effect on the people.

fire of patriotism blazed by the mere knowledge that the melody symbolized Hungary, or did the notes speak with tongues of flame?—Atlantic Monthly.

Recipes For Goodness.

Half of the wickedness of life is owing to misery. Make a man happy and he is good. He becomes like a dower refreshed by the dew of heaven. This good brother, recognizing his fellow worker in the Lord way, back among the congregation on Sunday morning and wishing to show every courtesy, asked him to lead in prayer. But the visitor calmly replied: "You'll have to excuse me, dear brother. I'm on my vacation."

Perfectly Reckless.

The members of the church voted that their dearly beloved and devoted pastor should have a vacation, and so he decided that he would visit a brother worker in the neighboring village. A LION HUNT.

Usually a Case in Which Hunters Send the Game into Combat.

There is a distinction in Africa between ordinary lions and "man-eaters," says T. R. MacMechan in McClure's Magazine. The ordinary lion does not willfully attack man. The presence of lions roaming at night or the field is not disturbing to any native nor to whites who have come to understand the beast. Persons returning to their camps after nightfall do not notice the roaring of lions or the cries of leopards or hyenas.

It is seldom that people bent upon domestic errands carry weapons in the darkness, although at night the void of British East Africa is alive with roaming beasts, which may be heard from the verandas of the houses. Lions give the passing man a wide berth, day or night, when it is apparent that he means no mischief.

An ordinary lion, even when wounded, will try flight before fight. When its escape is disputed it will, especially if wounded, try to maul its enemy with teeth and claws.

A lion hunt is usually a chase in which the hunters lead the game into combat. Once a lion has tasted human blood, however, it is no more afraid of man, but learns that he is the weak meat. Such a lion is known as a man-eater because how he hunts man.

A Special Sale of High Grade Pianos During Coming Month

During the month of May, I intend to sell about thirty-five high grade pianos, at about two-thirds their regular price. That is to say, that the prices during this sale will be about one-third less than the same pianos bring regularly wherever they are offered for sale.

Each and every piano has been PERSONALLY SELECTED BY MYSELF, and I will vouch for its high character. Heading the line of the six old reliable standard makes I will offer during this sale, is

THE GREAT MATHUSHEK

This is a piano WITHOUT A PEAK. There is a no more reliable or more honestly constructed piano made in the world. Its separate agraffe, its independent iron frame, its mandolin sounding board, all commend it as a piano of the VERY HIGHEST CLASS, but it is to its great durability and ability to stay in tune, that its fame is best known.

During this sale, or throughout the entire month of May, this great piano can be bought practically ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS LESS THAN ITS REGULAR PRICE AND ACTUAL WORTH.

Each and Every Piano Sold During This Sale Has My Personal Guarantee

And I refer to the hundreds of persons in this valley to whom I have sold pianos during the past 14 years, as to my treatment of them in their business relations with me.

It is the intention to commit the girl to the Home of the Good Shepherd at Wheeling.

Next Friday and Saturday night, May 7 and 8, at Turner Hall, Charleroi people will have the pleasure of attending two of the most elaborate minstrel productions ever attempted by home talent. The production is given under the auspices of the Lady Macabees, which is of itself sufficient guarantee that it will be superb. From the rise of the curtain until its fall, everything will move with the finish and dash of a professional performance.

The jokes will be well sprung and will be witty, the gags of the latest, yet entirely devoid of coarseness showing nothing but bright, keen shafts of wit and the songs and choruses will be all catchy and entertaining. The whole first part will be followed by an olio of mirth, music and oddities.

The minstrels are given under the directions of Prof. and Mrs. McCloskey, who are well-known in surrounding towns where they have successfully staged such plays as "America" "Lousiana" and musical comedies.

A GREAT DISCOVERY

Certain Ingredients That Really Grow Hair When Properly Combined.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its natural nourishment, and also creates a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin, although not a coloring matter or dye, is a well-known ingredient for restoring the hair to its natural color, when the loss of hair has been caused by a disease of the scalp.

These ingredients in proper combination, with alcohol added as a stimulant and for its well defined nourishing properties, perfect the most effective remedy that is known for scalp and hair troubles.

We have a remedy which is chiefly composed of these ingredients, in combination with other extremely invaluable medicinal agents. We guarantee it to positively cure dandruff and to grow hair; even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair. If there is any vitality left in the roots, it will positively cure baldness. If the scalp has a glazed, shiny appearance, it's an indication that baldness is permanent, but in every other instance, baldness is curable.

We want everyone troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it.

We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has affected a positive cure in 98 per cent of cases where put to a practical test.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely alike, and in every particular better than anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better guarantee to give you. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. John W. Carroll, Charleroi, Pa.
